Utility 12.5mm
Snap-Off Blade

*2 in 1
Tool*

Saw makes a hole in a dry wall and cuts a wood, while Cutter exposes a hard wiring and cuts a cardboard.

CS-5

Pointed Saw Blade + All-Round Snap-Off Blade in one handle

Keyhole Saw Blade

One necessity for electricians: The saw blade is bi-directional, works as a pull-saw as well as a push-saw. Its sharp-pointed tip drills a hole in a board to start cutting. The hard-to-bend 12.5mm-wide x 0.45mm-thick snap-off blade cuts tough materials stronger than it might be expected.

CS-5

A combination of Keyhole Saw and 12.5mm Cutter is all needed. Grab one CS-5 instead of carrying 2 handles for one workday. The snap-off blade cutter is placed in the deep part of the body to avoid unexpected touching while using the saw on the other side.

-Saw side-

Wheel-Lock Screw is adapted in order to stand the quick back-and-forth movement of the saw blade.

Nonslip Handle applied conjoined molding with Polypropylene contained 10% glassfiber and Elastomer as the X-design handles.

-Cutter Knife side-

Auto-Lock Slider allows one-hand use.

Blade Stopper/Blade Snapper features a snap ring to reduce the risk of drop from a high working spot.

How to exchange blades:

Blade Stopper is released by a push-and-pull movement.

Keyhole Saw

The 1.25mm-thick saw blade is designed to cut not only drywalls, but also wood panels and plywoods. The teeth of the saw are set to be small sharp-pointed tips, and bi-directional: cuts while pulled and also while pushed.

Sharp-Pointed Tip drills a hole in a board to start cutting.

The trapezoidal shape plays a part in "Chip Disposal Equipment".

12.5mm Snap-Off Blade Cutter

The most versatile size goes strong while exposing hard wirings and cutting cardboards.
